

2022 CHALLENGES FOR BOTF SEMIFINALISTS

Now that you have been named a semifinalist, we want to know more about you and how you operate. The purpose of these challenges is to let us “inside” your student section for two weeks. The three finalists will be determined based on the initial application video and the fulfillment and quality of completion of up to 3 minutes of BOTF Challenges.

YOUR ASSIGNMENT

Complete the five mandatory challenges and as many of the elective challenges as you want from the list below. Your assignment is to post a new Tik Tok video with proof of these completed challenges. Just like your application video, this one can be no more than three minutes long.

Not all challenges need to be completed during this two-week window, as earlier this year you may have coincidentally completed one of the challenges. Our judges know that some are more difficult than others, so factor that in while making your decisions. On Jan. 22 email us a link to your Challenge Tik Tok video.

While the assignment is to send us one Tik Tok Challenge compilation video, we are expecting a lot of social media activity from the nine semifinalists throughout the two weeks. Continue to use the #mhsaaboutf2022 hashtag, spread out your postings over multiple days, and watch and see what the other student sections are doing. We will be promoting and sharing the best posts on a daily basis, and this should be a great time to celebrate all the great things student sections are doing in our state. REMEMBER: We are using these challenges to learn more about you. Let us see what you are all about. Most importantly, have fun with these challenges.

SUBMITTING YOUR CHALLENGES...

- Select one person from your student section to email us the final Tik Tok Challenge video.
- You can do as many challenges as you want, but your compilation video can only be three minutes long. Be sure to include footage of the five mandatory challenges.
- It's best if you somehow label the number or name of each challenge while it is being shown.
- Email a link to your Challenge video to BOTF@mhsaa.com. Feel free to ask questions before sending the email!
- The deadline is 11 p.m. on Saturday, January 22.

Complete ALL FIVE of these MANDATORY challenges

#1 NUMBERS: We are excited to visit the three finalist schools, but we want to make sure students come to games when we aren't there. Show us photos or videos from at least THREE games. Remember: you can use video from any time during this school year. We want to see how much of your student body is part of the student section.

#2 CHEER: Nearly every student section has favorite chants or cheers. Show us a favorite, or even a bunch of your favorites.

#3 SUPPORT: Great student sections cheer for more than just the boys basketball team. Show us how you have supported other teams at the school.

#4 TRENDS: Show your student section participating in your favorite Tik Tok trend.

#5 THEME: Get your entire student section to participate in a Theme Night. The more unique the better.

In addition, complete any of these ELECTIVE challenges

#6 ROAD-TRIP: It's easy to get students to a home game, but can you get your student body to an away game? We want to see it.

#7 ADMIN: The best student sections leaders continually work with the athletic director and school administrators. While they should always be a part of your planning process, can you get an administrator or teacher to participate on game night? Show us how your administrator gets involved on a game night.

#8 PREPARE: Many student sections have regular meetings to help plan the group's activities. Organization and communication with the student body is also key. Show us how your leaders prepare for game night.

#9 UNIQUE: All great student sections are loud and crazy and positive and big, but the best ones do something to differentiate themselves from the others. What makes your student section unique? Why would someone want to be part of your student section?

#10 ORIGIN: Some student sections are brand new, born from an idea at an MHSAA Sportsmanship Summit. Some student sections, though, have been around for a while and have a storied history. What is the origin story of your student section? If you are new, how did this start? If you have been around for a while, why do students continue the tradition?

#11 ADVERSITY: Growing a student section isn't easy. It takes a lot of pregame work, support from administrators and buy-in from your student body, not to mention other issues that might pop up along the way. Tell us about a challenge you have faced, and how you were able to face that adversity.

#12 COLLABORATE: We know your student section is united, but how well do you work with other groups like your cheerleaders, mascot or pep band? Working with other student support groups while at the game can take you to the next level, and we want to see how you do it.

#13 FOCUS: It's important to keep cheers positive during games, especially if a call goes against you or if the other student section is chanting at you or your team. Show us how you keep the focus on your team at a time when others may get negative.

#14 BREAK: When there is a break in game action and teams aren't on the floor, it can be fun to take the spotlight. Show us a halftime or quarter-break activity. Or show us how you incorporate music, bands and/or dancing this into a game night.

#15 FIGHT SONG: Your school fight song can unite your athletes, student body, teachers, administrators and even the community. Does your student section do something unique while singing or playing your fight song? Show us.

#16 CONGRATS: Sportsmanship is always important, and it's especially important among competing student sections. Send a message to at least one other semifinalist student section.

#17 FRIENDS: The competition on game night should be between the two teams on the court, not between the two student sections. Do something WITH the other student section to make the atmosphere more positive and FUN.

#18 PROMOTION: How are you promoting your status as a BOTF semifinalist? Do you have posters or signage encouraging more students to come to games to help your BOTF chances? Are you debuting any new cheers or activities? Show us how you are stepping up your game for the Challenge Round.

#19 FRESHMEN: It is important to involve the entire student body in the student section. How do you involve underclassmen?

#20 YOUTH: Younger students in the community look up to the high school students in the student section. How are you teaching the youth in your community about positive sportsmanship?
